FUND OBJECTIVE

The Fund invests directly into the Flagship Global Equity Fund IC Limited, registered in Guernsey. That fund seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation by investing in high-quality companies that the Fund Manager believes will generate superior returns over the long-term. Such companies typically have a franchise in the form of a hard-to-replicate intangible asset (such as a brand, culture or intellectual property) that leads to an enduring competitive advantage and a dominant market position.

MONTHLY RETURNS

EFFECTIVE EQUITY EXPOSURE

FUND COMMENTARY - JANUARY 2026

The Flagship BCI Global Equity Feeder Fund returned 1.2% vs 0.3% for the MSCI ACWI (both in ZAR), as equity markets started the new year on a strong note, despite a sizeable pullback on the very last day of the month.

The biggest contributors for the month were Micron, ACS and Glencore, while the main detractors were Blu Label, Intellia Therapeutics and Heritage Insurance Holdings. As required by legislation, we confirm that the fund has adhered to its policy objective and strategy.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Equity markets started the year strongly. In the US, the S&P and Nasdaq gained 1.4% and 1.0% respectively, while London's FTSE, off to a flyer, gained 3.0%. The strongest performance came from the East, as Japan's Nikkei rose by 5.9%, while the Hang Seng was up a meaningful 6.9% for the month. The USD was again weak compared to most of its peers, boosting the above non-US returns, when measured in dollars.

Partly responsible for the weak dollar was a Justice Department criminal investigation into Fed chairman, Jerome Powell, which is widely considered to be politically motivated, drawing condemnation from both sides of the political divide. Powell himself called it an attack that "brings the US closer to emerging markets with weak institutions". Later in the month, the Fed kept borrowing rates constant, while two Fed dissenters called for a 25-basis point cut. Cutting rates is certainly not required to spur growth, as the US economy expanded by 4.4% during the third quarter, marginally higher than expected.

The real story this month was in the commodity space. Gold breached $5,000 for the first time, soaring to a record $5,500. Silver, meanwhile, had its biggest one-day jump (+14%) in 40 years. The exuberance was short lived, though, as Trump's announcement of a new Fed Chair, perceived by many to be more hawkish, led to an historic collapse in metal prices. Gold fell 11% and silver 31% in a single session – the latter's 2nd worst day on record.

The geopolitical landscape across the globe remains volatile. After a ruffling of feathers between the US and NATO, there seems to be progress towards an agreement on Greenland. This will be closely monitored, though, and we are seeing increasing evidence of many countries (Canada-China and Europe-India) looking to diversify away from the US and the Dollar. Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent calling allies like Denmark "irrelevant" is not helping the US cause. This unease between allies was a large contributor to the historic rallies in various precious metals. US-Iran tensions are also building as the US ramps up its military presence in the region, with strikes against Tehran reportedly being considered. The Islamic regime's brutal crackdown on protestors, with estimates of 30 000 or more casualties, certainly did not win them any favours.

Back home, the JSE AllShare continued its strong performance from last year, gaining 3.7% during the month. Again, these ZAR returns were elevated when measured in USD, as the greenback declined by another 2.5% against the Rand. This, despite the SA military again trying its utmost to upset the West, hosting war games and inviting Russia and Iran (the latter freshly accused of a brutal two-day anti-democracy crackdown), amongst others, to participate. These apparently unauthorised activities begs the question: does Ramaphosa, as Commander-in-Chief of the SA armed forces, have control of the military? This is certainly not a good look.

Investment Policy

The Flagship BCI Global Equity Feeder Fund is in the Global - Equity - General sector and invests directly into the Flagship Global Equity Fund IC Limited, registered in Guernsey. That fund seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation by investing in high-quality companies that the Fund Manager believes will generate superior returns over the long-term. Such companies typically have a franchise in the form of a hard-to-replicate intangible asset (such as a brand, culture or intellectual property) that leads to an enduring competitive advantage and a dominant market position. The fund will, at all times, be fully invested in the master fund and, as such, does not allow for any asset allocation flexibility and will not invest in any financial instruments to implement specific investment views.

TER and Transaction Costs

Therefore, 1.55% of the value of the fund was incurred as costs relating to the investment of the fund. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. A feeder fund is a portfolio that invests in a single portfolio of collective investment schemes, which levies its own charges and which could result in a higher fee structure for the feeder fund.
