1.1 Due Diligence Guidance

Introduction

Apex operates in a regulated environment and anti-money laundering legislation requires us to verify the identity of a client, their residential address, source of funds and source of wealth, as appropriate. Anti-money laundering legislation is designed to make it difficult for criminals to access financial systems thereby preventing money laundering, the financing of terrorism and combating fraud. Further information may also be requested on review, if additional funds/assets are invested / settled, if third party facilities are required or if there are any changes to the ownership or control of the structure. Should you encounter any difficulty in providing any documents or supporting information please contact us as soon as possible.

Enhanced measures

Apex must apply enhanced measures to investors who present the following factors:

1. Investors who are not resident in the Bailiwick of Guernsey
2. An Investor which is a Personal Asset Holding vehicle
3. An Investor which uses nominee shareholders

Source of funds, income and wealth

Apex must take reasonable steps to establish the source of funds for all applicants for business when entering into a new relationship or carrying out a one-off transaction.

Identification and verification of individuals non-face to face

Apex must apply an effective client identification procedures for all relationships. Where identity is verified remotely through documentary evidence, adequate measures will be taken to compensate for any risk associated with not having met the individuals concerned or having sight of the original supporting documentation.

Suitable certifiers and the certification procedure

We can accept photocopies of original documents provided the copies are good quality, certified by a suitable certifier, who has seen the original documents. For identity verification documents, the certifier has to have met the individual face-to-face and checked that the photograph represents a good likeness of the individual. Suitable certifiers include:

- A practicing lawyer, notary public, accountant or company secretary who is a member of a recognised professional body; or
- A director, company secretary or manager of a financial services of a business regulated in an appendix C jurisdiction.
- Certified documents must include the statement "True copy of the original" and the certifier must:
 - (a) Sign and date the document with their name (printed in capitals underneath); and
 - (b) Indicate their position or capacity on it and provide their contact details.
 - (c) If a photo is included that it is a true likeness.

D:I certify this is a true copy of the original. The photograph is a true likeness of the individual, whom I have met.
