FUND OBJECTIVE

The Fund invests directly into the Flagship Global Equity Fund IC Limited, registered in Guernsey. That fund's aim, first and foremost, is the protection of client capital in real terms, followed by inflation-beating growth. To identify the best global investment opportunities, the Fund is style agnostic; uses bottom-up fundamental analysis; quantitative and technical analysis tools; and top-down, macro screeners. The Fund utilizes a proprietary Active Risk Management System which aims to significantly reduce risk from any single investment. The Fund will employ a dynamic approach to investments, trading its positions more often than traditional buy-and-hold portfolios.

FUND COMMENTARY - JULY 2026

The Flagship FR Global Equity Feeder Fund experienced a particularly weak month, largely driven by the continuing volatility related to the AI buildout, particularly in the semiconductor and memory space. The biggest contributors for the month were Blu Label Unlimited, Valero Energy and Mitsubishi Financial, while the main detractors Micron, Lumentum and TSMC.

As required by legislation, we confirm that the fund has adhered to its policy objective and strategy.

MARKET COMMENTARY

The S&P 500 closed the month unchanged while the tech-heavy Nasdaq declined by 3.2%. On a stock level, however, there was some extreme volatility, such as IBM's single day 26% decline, its largest since 1968, highlighting the market's current skittishness. In the UK, the FTSE enjoyed a strong month, gaining 3.6%. The moves in the East were more volatile, with Japan's Nikkei losing 8.1% while, on the opposite end of the spectrum, the Hang Seng gained 13.5%. Emerging markets struggled, with the MSCI EM index declining by 3%. This was driven by the extreme levels of volatility seen in the South Korean and Taiwanese markets. At one stage, the Kospi tumbled 11%, two days in a row, printing a record two-day decline. This was followed by a massive single session 18% recovery, leaving the index down more than 20% for the month.

The US Federal Reserve again decided to keep rates unchanged, notwithstanding 3 members dissenting in favour of a hike. This led to a sharp selloff in US long bonds, sending yields to 5.2%, the highest levels since 2007, as the market questions new chairman Warsh's resolve in getting inflation back to the 2% target level. The decision to keep rates steady came after a softer than expected inflation print of 3.5% earlier in the month.

At a company level, attention was fixed firmly on a highly anticipated earnings season. Big banks set the tone, with the five largest US banks recording an almost 40% profit surge from a year ago. The key test was always going to be the capital expenditure numbers reported by the hyperscalers and, currently, there is very little evidence of this spend slowing down. All this must come at the cost of something else and, right now, that cost is drastically reduced share buybacks. With Alphabet going free cash flow negative this past quarter, plus Meta's free cash flow plunging 91% year-over-year, buybacks are unlikely to return as long as the capex boom remains intact.

Geopolitical news was once again dominated by the on-off nature of the US and Iran's conflict. A fragile ceasefire fell apart earlier in the month, leading to escalating attacks and wider regional involvement, with the Yemen-based Houthis entering the equation. This, in turn, could force the Saudi Kingdom's hand into expanding its own role. At the time of writing, Trump called off what he labelled the "biggest attack since World War II", as diplomacy again became an option. The resumption of hostilities sent prices of Brent crude higher by 23.6% in July. Over the last 3 months it is still trading 21% lower, but 48% higher on a YTD basis, reflecting the extreme volatility over the last couple of months

Back home, the local JSE's performance was in line with major peers, gaining 1.2% in ZAR and 0.3% when measured in USD. The weakening of the ZAR was mainly due to a widely expected rate hike that failed to materialize. This was a surprising move from the normally hawkish SARB, especially given the recent acceleration of inflation data.

Investment Policy

The Flagship FR Global Equity Feeder Fund is in the Global - Equity - General sector and invests directly into the Flagship Global Equity Fund IC Limited, registered in Guernsey. That fund seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation by investing in high-quality companies that the Fund Manager believes will generate superior returns over the long-term. Such companies typically have a franchise in the form of a hard-to-replicate intangible asset (such as a brand, culture or intellectual property) that leads to an enduring competitive advantage and a dominant market position. The fund will, at all times, be fully invested in the master fund and, as such, does not allow for any asset allocation flexibility and will not invest in any financial instruments to implement specific investment views.

TER and Transaction Costs

The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
